

Tanque Verde, Arizona

Itinerary

You may arrive any day of the week and stay for as little or as long as you like. We recommend you stay for a minimum of four nights to enjoy all that is available. Aside from riding, there are many other activities available at Tanque Verde.

The ranch riding programme office is open each afternoon so that guests may sign up for activities the next day. Or instead, during dinner the Activities Director will come around to your table to sign you up. The purpose for signing up the night before is so that guests know which rides are available and to let the wranglers know how many horses to saddle up in the morning.

There are usually two trail rides in the morning and another in the afternoon, with a half day or day ride (depending on the season) once a week. A breakfast ride is also offered on some days, as is team penning. Riding lessons for beginners and more experienced riders are offered each afternoon and are included in the rate. Private evening 'sunset' rides are offered at an additional cost.
