The following is a sample itinerary to be used as a rough guideline of how the days might pan out. Usually you can expect to ride for between 4 and 8 hours each day, covering 20-50km over varied terrain. The route, overnight stops and hours in the saddle can change, but always with your best interests in mind.

Day 2:

After breakfast you have a four hour drive to the lunch spot in the quaint town of Maltahohe, then a descent down the Zaris Pass to the Wolwedans Private Reserve.

Settle in and explore your surroundings; meet your crew and horses before enjoying sundowners in the soft fading evening light with the spectacular Milky Way arching overhead.

Tonight and all subsequent nights are in a desert camp.

Days 3 - 9

Set off into the wide expanse of one of the largest Nature Reserves in Southern Africa. Riding across vast plains of truly unspoiled countryside with exceptional panoramic views where sentinel inselbergs (island mountains) dot the desertscape.

Small herds of desert adapted game such as oryx, springbok and zebra can sometimes be seen.

Lunch is enjoyed under a convenient tree or interesting spot with a good view.

Overnight camps are chosen for their spectacular desertscape views and you arrive into camp in time to enjoy sundowners in the pastel light the Namib is known for.

Sleeping under the magnificent starry sky has its own kind of magic - few places on earth afford so little light pollution and an incomparable view of the southern constellation.

The route may vary depending on weather conditions or other circumstances but every day is sure to be memorable.

Day 10:

From the last camp in Geistershlucht (Ghost valley) you visit the waterhole of the Wild Horses of the Namib for a sundowner. There should also be time to visit Kolmanskop, the old German diamond mining town and to explore the coastal town of Luderitz.

Have a last memorable dinner together around the camp-fire.

Day 11:

Today it is time to say goodbye to the horses and the staff who have helped you along the way.

You will be transferred from Luderitz to Windhoek by road or air.

Onward flights should depart Windhoek after 17:30.
